BELLE GLADE-PAHOKEE, FL.

THE SITE of the Tuesday morning fire in Pahokee was still smouldering Tuesday afternoon.

Nineteen people were left homeless when the six buildings burned.

Fire leaves nineteen homeless in Pahokee

PAHOKEE - A state fire marshal was scheduled to visit the site of Tuesday morning's fire which left 19 homeless, according to Pahokee Fire Chief Cecil Phillips.

He will try to determine the cause of the blaze which broke out at about 1:25 a.m. and burnt six buildings to the ground.

The Pahokee Fire Department fought the fire until 6 a.m., according to Phillips. They were assisted by one truck from Belle Glade, one from Canal Point and a truck from the Florida Division of Forestry.

"It was a rough one," said Phillips.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

Three of the buildings were owned by Sam Pompey, Sr., according to Phillips and the other three were owned by David Hill.

Two of Pompey's buildings were two story buildings and the rest were all single story.

No one was hurt and ten of the victims bedded down in the Red Cross building across from the Pahokee City Hall.

PBJC to dedicate new center Saturday

Palm Beach Junior College Glades will dedicate the Cultural Arts in ceremonies beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 17.

The cultural arts center, almost five years in conception, fund-raising, planning and construction, will have cost more than $2 million overall when 500 invited guests assemble for the first program Saturday.

The center is a true community affair, and funds from the state, the county, the college, the City of Belle Glade, the large agricultural interests of the Glades, private businesses, and individual donors have been joined in its construction.

The first entertainment to be offered in the auditorium will be by the Palm Beach Junior College Music Department, which will bring a revised version of its recent production, "An Evening on Broadway" to Belle Glade for the occasion.

Dr. Edward M. Elsey, PBJC President, will be the master of ceremonies for the dedication, and will preside over a stage-wide ribbon cutting as well as other dedicatory events.

Dr. Philip Lichtblau, chairman of the PBJC trustees will be the first speaker for the occasion, following the invocation by Rev. David Evans and a welcome from Dr. Cecil Conley, PBJC Glades Provost.

Mrs. Homer Hand, PBJC trustee who was closely involved in the center from concept to reality will give a brief account of major steps in the history of the Cultural Center.

Guests for the occasion will include many community leaders who aided in the development of the center, college trustees and administration, and the faculty, staff and students of PBJC Glades.

The student government at PBJC Glades will furnish valet parking, and members of Phi Theta Kappa, the national community college honorary society, will be ushers.

City asks rate relief

BELLE GLADE - The City of Belle Glade asked the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority's Budget and Policy Advisory Committee for relief from the $21.70 per ton tipping fee currently in effect at the transfer station in Belle Glade Monday, April 12.

The response from the committee wasn't encouraging. Chairman Bill Bailey suggested the city's finance director, Frank Anderson, and Russell Hawks, the authority's financial consultant, meet and develop a proposal to be considered at the committee's next meeting.

The committee and the authority's executive director of the authority, Timothy F. Hunt, Jr., two months ago decided to delay talk of a rate reduction until after the transfer station in Belle Glade had been open for several months to give the authority an idea of the cash flow involved in its operation.

Anderson told the committee that after 4 1/2 months of operating under the transfer station and its fees, the city had spent about $138,000 of a $195,000 budget for waste disposal.

City Manager Rolfe Wagner estimated the city to be overspending the money allotted by 41 percent.

He said the city could overspend its

Proposed site for post office revealed

BELLE GLADE - The proposed site for the new Belle Glade United States Post Office lies halfway between West Canal Street and SW Avenue E on NW 16th Street.

The site was discussed at the Belle Glade City Commission meeting Monday, April 12, and four of the five commissioners voiced approval for the site. "I think it's a terrible location for the new post office," said Mayor Thomas L. Altman. "It's hard to get to."

"I really don't have any objections to where it's at," said Commissioner Claude Tindall.

"Well, look at it, it's right on the edge of town," said Altman.

"Yeah, but it's my edge."

If the United States Postal Service goes ahead with the plan, a 5,563 square foot building will be built on the site which measures 66,000 square feet, according to information supplied to the commission by the Service.

Many residents have complained that the current post office does not have enough parking space.

Up to 22 employees will work in the new facility.

The commissioners approved a motion recommending the Postal Service purchase the lot lying to the north of the current facility and create a parking lot out of it.

Ground Zero Day to inform public

BELLE GLADE - What happens in a nuclear holocaust? What happens in the aftermath? Is Belle Glade, not directly located in a high risk area, safe from the upheavals associated with nuclear war?

These questions will be discussed next week when the city of Belle Glade observes Ground Zero Week along with over 300 communities in the United States and Canada.

Thursday, April 22, has been declared Ground Zero Day in Belle Glade by Mayor Thomas L. Altman.

Charles Farrar is the local spokesman for Ground Zero, a national organization. Farrar, the rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in Belle Glade, said he is acting as a private citizen in his association with the organization, not as a member of the church, which does not sponsor or endorse Ground Zero Day.

A seminar will be held on Ground Zero Day at Palm Beach Junior College - Glades campus, according to Farrar.

Richard Yinger, a social sciences professor at PBJC - main campus, will be the featured speaker in the college's Assembly Room at 6 p.m.

The film "The Last Epidemic: Medical Consequences of Nuclear War" will also be shown.

According to Farrar, the purpose of Ground Zero Day is to educate the public about nuclear war, not to advocate any position for or against nuclear weapons.

"I couldn't proclaim ground zero day if it had a connotation of support for any of those positions," said Mayor Thomas L. Altman when his proclamation was announced at the City Commission meeting Monday, April 12.

Ground Zero is a national organization founded by Roger Molander, 40, who served as a nuclear strategy specialist on the National Security Council under Presidents Nixon, Ford and Carter.

According to Farrar, Belle Glade's proximity to high risk areas such as Orlando, Miami, Fort Myers and the West Palm Beach to Fort Lauderdale area makes it a likely fallout victim in the event of a nuclear war.

According to information supplied by the United States Department of Defense, fallout could be carried downwind in a concentrated form for 200 miles in a width of 60 miles by a 15 mile per hour wind.

The purpose of the seminar to be held at PBJC and Ground Zero week is to educate the public in the aspects of nuclear war so they can express their views to decision makers, according to Farrar.

Fun day scheduled

BELLE GLADE --A community "Fun Day" and "Mr. and Miss Junior Pageant" will be held Sunday, beginning at 2 p.m. at the Lake Shore Park.

Johnny Jackson, coordinator of "Fun Day" said the program calls for the public to participate in a number of recreational games during the day long festival.

Jackson said the activity is being held to bring the community closer together and to give young people "something constructive" to do.

Jackson said all of the planned activities are free and all ages are invited to participate.

The activities will include a softball game, volleyball game, horseshoe contest for senior citizens, sack races, balloon contest, flag football, dance contest, boxing, pie eating contest, watermelon eating contest and the pageant at 8 p.m. at the Lake Shore Civic Center.

Jackson said several bands will also be performing throughout the day at the park.

At the pageant a Mr. and Miss Junior will be crowned. Jackson said the age groups are from 7 to 12 year and 13 to 16. Trophies will be given to the winners.

Jackson said contestants must participate in the fun day activities. Contestants are asked to enter the contest prior to Sunday.

Contestants may contact Jackson at 216 S.W. 6th St., Belle Glade, 996-8420 or Mrs. Sheila Inman at 572 S.W. 2nd St., 996-5266.

Persons who would like to participate in the athletic events are asked to contact Frank Williams at 107 N.W. 10th St., Belle Glade.

Jackson said food will be served at the activities.

He said local merchants have donated funds to help defray the program cost.

Businesses donating funds to the program are Seminole Supply, Inc., Kentucky Fried Chicken, Food Center, Bobby's Market, Western Auto, TrueValue Hardware, Rodriguez Service Center, Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Sweet n' Sassy, Larry's, Lockwood Herick, Curtis Mathis, A-Won Trophies and the Fox Trap Lounge, James Vicker's Grocery, Miner's Supermarket, Garcia Auto Supply and Dixie Fried Chicken.

Jackson said he can not express enough the importance of the community participation. "The activities are free, free and free, there is no reason why the community shouldn't participate or let their kid participate," said Jackson.

The activities will start at 2 p.m. and go until 11 p.m.

Seminar slated

The third symposium in a series of five, documenting the contributions of black people to the history of Palm Beach County will be held Sunday, April 18 from 3-5 p.m. in the Roosevelt Community School Auditorium.

The topic covered will be Social and Civic Involvement.

A. Thomas White, director of the Palm Beach County Department of Human Resources, will coordinate the third symposium, assisted by a panel of black civic leaders.

Slide presentations and a display of pictures of past and present community organizations will be shown, with the period covered from 1900-1982.

Resource persons named to help collect historical information about organizations and individuals for this symposium include Mrs. Ruth Pompey, South County area; Mrs. Marion White, North County area; and Mrs. Celeste Monroe of Belle Glade, of the West County area.

Garbage truck proposal sent back to city council

PAHOKEE -- The Pahokee Housing Authority, Board of Directors Tuesday, April 13, sent a proposed leasing arrangement between the authority and City of Pahokee back to the City Council for reconsideration.

The lease would have rented a new garbage truck to the city for $150 per month and a place to dump the garbage the authority collects in the Fremb Village and Padgett Island developments.

The authority's board of directors decided the $150 per month fee was too low and that a clause giving the truck to the city at the end of five years for $1 should be rewritten to give the city first refusal to purchase the truck if the authority decides to sell it at the end of that time.

Originally, the authority had submitted a bid to lease the truck to the city at a rate of $300 per month plus the dumping provision.

The city council last month changed that to $150 and accepted the bid.

"I just don't think we can cut that $300 down to $150 and give them the truck at the end of five years," said Director Murray Brinson.

Executive Director Randy Mills said that in negotiating with the city, the city's public works director (Donnie Martin) had told him he didn't think the truck would hold up.

According to Mills, the city of Clearwater has rated the truck above the trucks used by the city in its system, and since the public works director would be in charge of the truck if it leased to the city, it would not be a "good idea" to go ahead with the arrangement.

"I didn't like the attitude of certain people up there," said Mills.

The city and authority had been negotiating the leasing arrangement since early this year.

In another development in the issue, the authority Tuesday authorized its attorney, Michael Stauder, to investigate the possibility that, under the franchise agreement with the county, South Florida Sanitation should have been providing twice weekly trash pick-up and removal during its 10-year agreement.

Reunion

BELLE GLADE -- The class of 1972 is in the process of planning for their ten year reunion, according to David Brown, class president.

A planning meeting will be held at Glades Central High School, main campus, on April 18 at 4 p.m.

According to Brown, all class members are urged to attend and be prompt.

Attorney to redraw airport land lease

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission Monday, April 12, authorized City Attorney John Baker to redraw a proposed lease between the city and a private company to include revisions discussed at the meeting.

P.V.S. Services, Inc., out of the Miami area, had asked the commission for a lease at the Belle Glade Airport. P.V.S. Services specializes in repairing medium size aircraft, such as DC 8s.

Several commissioners, including Charles Goodlett and Mayor Thomas L. Altman, expressed concern about removing abandoned aircraft or parts.

Jerry Van Winkle, representing the company, said most of the aircraft his company works on belong to customers who would not tend to leave them for derelict and he does not intend to buy or won any planes himself.

"The nature of my business is a bit different than the business of those who allowed that to happen," he said, referring to problems experienced by other airports.

"We don't want any hanger queens out there," said City Manager Rolfe Wagner. "Hanger queen" is a slang term for airplanes used strictly for parts and left idle at an airport.

Van Winkle said he does not intend to have any "hanger queens" at the Belle Glade airport and that he does not have any at other airports.

"There's no way to bring a disabled plane into an airport except to fly it in," said Van Winkle. "If a DC 3 flies in, it can fly back out. There's a very slim possibility that something could happen to it while it's there."

The commission ordered Baker to redraw the lease to include a $1,000 bond to be used towards the removal any derelict equipment or aircraft if P.V.S. Services leaves the airport.

Also included in the lease will be a provision allowing either party to cancel the lease with 60 days notice. The city wanted that provision because it is planning to develop a master plan for use of the airport with the completion of the runway repaving currently underway.

EVERGLADES FEDERAL ANNOUNCES SUMMER HOURS

BELLE GLADE - George H. Meyer, President of Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association has announced that "summer office hours" will become effective on Monday, April 19.

No sludge in fills

BELLE GLADE - The Department of Environmental Regulations has prohibited the dumping of sewage sludge in landfills, giving some local businessmen involved in the disposal of sludge a problem: where can the waste be disposed of?

They presented their case to the Glades Budget and Policy Advisory Committee Monday, April 12, but the Solid Waste Authority's Executive Director, Timothy F. Hunt, Jr., couldn't offer them anything but the advice to take their complaints to the state.

According to Hunt, DER objected to the dumping of sludge in landfills because the liquids in it would increase the infiltration in the garbage it is dumped over and pollute the water table.

"It's really ridiculous because the water table in the Glades area is not potable anyway," said Hunt. "They're placing the operators in the position where they're going to have to break the law and pollute the land they've been trying to clean up for the last ten years."

Sam Henderson, owner and operator of a company which supplies portable toilets, asked if he would be "hassled" by DER if he obtained a plot of land and dug a hole in it to be used strictly for disposal of sludge.

"Anyone you deal with them (DER), you'll be hassled," said Hunt.

According to Hunt, the DER will permit dumping only on approved sites.

Ruth Howard

Howard, Belhomme speak

BELLE GLADE - The Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Center hosted the community service meeting on Wednesday, March 24 at the Glades Office Building in Bryant Auditorium.

The facilitators were Ms. Ruth Howard, therapist and program coordinator of the Children's Service Department at the Mental Health Center, and Frantz Belhomme, of the I.R.S. Refugee Assistance Program.

Ms. Howard said the presentation was entitled "Haitian Culture and Myths."

Ms. Howard said the major focus of the program was the Haitian cultural background, personality characteristics, belief system, prominent Haitians, current events and transitions to the United States. Questionnaires were also distributed to the participants attending the workshop to get their feedback.

Ms. Howard said the facilitators would like to thank all persons for their presence and participation.

Mrs. Pat Miers of the Florida State Employment Center sponsored a similar workshop at F.S.E.S. on Monday, April 12.

Study underway

BELLE GLADE - A study is currently underway to determine ways to better utilize the transportation resources available in Palm Beach County.

Frank W. Brutt, executive director of the Palm Beach County Area Planning Board, told the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Thursday, April 9, that the board, in cooperation with the Florida Department of Transportation, is attempting to coordinate the transportation services for the elderly handicapped and economically disadvantaged for the Glades area.

"Unfortunately, what happens in a lot of assistance programs is that the right hand doesn't know what the left hand is doing," said Brutt.

The plan will attempt to get better use of the vehicles at the disposal of the board, according to Brutt.

He presented charts depicting the vehicles available through eight agencies and programs and Co-Trans, and the number and frequency of the trips those vehicles make to the Glades. The charts also showed how many people each vehicle averaged per trip.

According to Brutt, the board is studying ways to coordinate these vehicles so they would be carrying more passengers and serving more customers.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors expressed approval for the study, but some members also warned of the pitfalls in any study aimed at making government agencies more efficient.

"There's gonna be a lot of resistance from the agencies," said John Baker. "There's a due need for it."

Baker also said that public transportation in the Glades is not expected to be improved in the near future, so the study should not rely on added support from that area.

"We'll probably get good public transportation about the time they four-lane state road 80," he said. "Which will be in the next-millennium."

Waste-disposal budget of $88,000 by the end of the year if the trend continues.

According to Wagner, the higher than anticipated expenditures are due in part to the December 1981 and January 1982 freezes which resulted in extra vegetation being sent to the station. Timothy F. Hunt, Jr., the authority's executive director, said he would like to put off any rate reduction until after the station had been a while longer. Two months ago, he predicted the tonnage going through the transfer station could drop enough to cause cash-flow problems after the harvesting season ended.

That decrease has already been noticed, said Hunt Monday.

New site better

The site the United States Postal Service has chosen for the new Belle Glade Post Office has received some flack from the city commission.

They have a legitimate complaint: the site, located at the edge of the city limits on NW 16th Street, seems to be too far from the center of town.

A site closer to the heart of the city would have been more appropriate.

We also believe, however, that the new site is better than the present location of the post office for one big reason: parking.

When the postal service first began to discuss the possibility of relocating the post office, many people seemed to be in agreement that something had to be done to alleviate the parking problems being experienced at the current location and that a new location, at the very least, should include better parking facilities.

The new location will provide more parking space. In our opinion, this is more important than locating the office in the center of town.

History of the Everglades

30 YEARS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
APRIL 12, 1952

Former Northwestern Palm Beach County Hospital District Trustee E.A. Jensen said a proposed consolidated hospital meant to serve the entire western county was "dead as the extinct Dodo bird."

Jensen said the proposed facility wouldn't become a reality because people in Pahokee didn't want to lose their hospital and the same held true for people in Belle Glade.

Jensen accused the then publisher and editor of the Belle Glade Herald, Luther Jones of not supporting the proposition, although he claimed to. He said the only opinion-piece written in the Herald concerning the consolidated hospital was an article purporting to be factual reporting but which actually opposed it.

"I don't believe anyone could possibly be so naive," Jensen said, "as to consider that article factual reporting."

A total of 11 projects covering 28 miles of close-in Glades roads, plus a bridge across Hillsboro Canal near Belle Glade High School, were listed as two-year projects by the county commission. The projects were to be paid for from funds raised through a $15 million bond sale supported through secondary gasoline taxes.

The roads included Northwest Avenue L, Bolles Canal Road, an access road to the Glades Sugar House, Muck City Road east of Conner's Highway and Rardin Road.

The projects weren't part of the normal state highway appropriations.

30 YEARS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
APRIL 11, 1952

County commissioners and representatives of the State Road Department met at Six Mile Bend to discuss the dangerous situation there, where a half dozen deaths or more had occurred the previous year.

Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce directors thanked Commissioner Paul Rardin for, "whatever he did towards getting blinker lights (installed) on each end of the bridge," noting there had been no fatal accidents during the year.

It was pointed out that the money to build three new bridges, including one at Six Mile Bend, had been set aside by the state during the previous year but hadn't been used.

The Glades district had received $160,000 worth of roadwork, to build SR 715, it was pointed out, while $600,000 had been targeted for the area.

Cattlemen, 4-H Clubbers and Future Farmers of America held their fourth annual Southeast Florida Livestock and fat cattle show in the Mayo Pavilion at the Everglades Experiment Station.

Construction was begun on a chapel and eight visiting pavilions at Glades Correctional Institution.

The red brick chapel was to be built in the front visiting area and have a 250-seat capacity.

40 YEARS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
APRIL 17, 1942

The "Every American Can Pass" program to sell defense bonds got underway in Belle Glade, with plans being made to have every resident in the area sign up for financing the war effort.

The pledges were all voluntary and no machinery was being set up to collect the amounts promised.

The pledges were being sought in a three-day period in the Belle Glade area.

Reports were being circulated that Okeechobee and Ocoola Centers were going to be converted to military barracks.

The reports came on the heels of a similar conversion of migrant labor facilities at Homestead. Meanwhile, Bob Orzech and Bob Cameron suggested to Pop Lord that he organize an army for Belle Glade.

The drills conducted by the two Bobs at the Blue Goose had proven such a success that Lord issued orders for a weekly drill each Friday.

"If interest continues and some encouragement is given by attendance and work," Lord said, "I see no reason why Belle Glade should not have a guard company, even if it will have no official standing."

In another story of the day, Lord said heavy rains were expected to do heavy damage to spring crops in the Glades.

"Coming at a time like this when everything is in the balance," Lord said, "it is bound to hurt somebody."

30 YEARS AGO
THE EVERGLADES NEWS
APRIL 13, 1952

The proposed route of SR 26 through South Bay and along North New River Canal past Okeelanta wasn't being opposed by anyone in the Glades area.

A report that an officer of the Everglades Chamber of Commerce tried to get an agreement to divert the route to a route that would have left South Bay off it was a mistake, according to one news report.

At a meeting of the chamber, its road committee was commended for recommending the route running through South Bay and Okeelanta.

A carload of 634 hampers of beans brought $53.51, the highest price for a carload of beans in the 1931-32 growing season, with all but 11 of the hampers being grown on the same Kruse Brothers Farm.

The beans brought as much as $6 a hamper and were sold to J. Hamburger & Co. of New York.

A mass convention of the allied forces for prohibition and law enforcement of Palm Beach County was slated to be held in the court house in West Palm Beach to elect delegates to the state convention.

City redirects funds

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission Monday, April 12 redirected $25,000 in the Community Development budget that was originally slated to pave SW Avenue F.

Remar M. Harvin, director of Planning and Community Development, asked that the funds be redirected and used for other purposes, postponing the paving until next year when it will be handled with county funds.

City Manager Rolfe Wagner said he was opposed to the revision because he did not want to see the money be used in administrative overhead. When asked by the city commission to develop some type of budget which would not use the funds in administrative costs, Harvin said he would like to use about $1,000 of the funds in investigating applicants for Urban Development Assistance Grants.

Another $2,000 to $2,500 may be used in producing brochures on the Community Development Program in Belle Glade, said Harvin.

The rest would be used in rehabilitation. Wagner withdrew his reservations when Harvin submitted his tentative budget, and the commission approved the revisions unanimously.

Bravo! Bravo!

Music hath charms to soothe a savage beast, to soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak.

At least, that's what one poet had to say about music.

I don't know about the rocks and the oaks, but I do know that dairy cattle seem to enjoy music while being milked. They may not be very savage, but at least they are beasts and appear to be in a blissful state.

Music has approximately the same impact on humans as well. At least some music, depending on your tastes.

Music has extraordinary powers and as such, I want to recognize those who teach it.

Yes, music doesn't just happen. Behind almost every musician there is a teacher who made it possible.

There may be an occasional protégé who walks up to a French horn for the first time, picks it up, and begins to play music. But most of us aren't capable of this.

For the great mass of us, learning anything, especially music is hard work.

For instance, before would-be guitarists can even begin to learn to play they have to grow callouses on their fingertips.

It's my understanding that horn players have to toughen their upper lips. Legend has it that Paul McCartney took up the guitar because he thought he could never be a singer if he became a horn blower.

Forgive me if my musical expression isn't quite so lyric. I don't mind if you think that I'm not a musician, because I'm not.

My lack of familiarity with things musical only adds to my admiration for musicians and especially those who teach them.

Music teachers truly have their work cut out for them.

They have to introduce youngsters to strange instruments, convince them that it is fun to play them, and have the patience to work with them day after day.

They must have the courage to annually recruit new members into beginner bands and stay with them through the cacophonous stage to the point where they begin to produce something melodious.

Like a coach who is able to size up and nurture athletic ability, a music teacher or a band director must apply some of the same principals to musicians.

It's hard work and those of us who don't have a child directly involved in a band may be unaware of what goes on.

What most interests us is the end result.

We see a bunch of youngsters marching and playing music as a unit. It's an extraordinary achievement.

Not only has our world been made more beautiful, a sizeable chunk of culture has been preserved and passed on to yet another generation.

Bravo, and thank you!

County approves harbor grant

PAHOKEE - The boat ramps and the pilings a Pahokee Harbor may soon be getting much needed repairs, according to Pahokee Mayor Dunca Padgett and Jim Sloan, the city engineer from Russell and Axon.

The County Commission approved a total of $50,000 in State Department of Natural Resources funds for the repairs this week, Sloan told the city council Tuesday, April 13.

The next step is to gain approval from the state, which normally "rubber stamps" the decision of the local distributing agency, said Sloan.

In other business, the city council:

- Voted to advertise for bids for 2,000 feet of fire hose and two soft suction hoses for the fire department.

- Heard from Tom Housch, the owner of th burnie house on the edge of Pahokee, that progress is being made in cleaning up the property.

The council had previously discussed the possibility of taking legal action against Housch if the loose tin and debris was not cleared in reasonable amount of time.

Councilman William McKinstry asked Housch if he thought the tin could be cleared before the start of hurricane season in June. The tin concerned many members of the council because of the potential safety hazard it represents in the event of high winds.

"I'll tell you what, buddy, I can't promise you anything, but we'll try like hell," said Housch who said he is having his own crews remove the tin until a contractor can be hired to remove the heavy debris from the property.

He said his plans include clearing the lot and placing one or two businesses on it.

"The Easter Letdown"

The heights of the Easter victory and the joyous hallelujahs of the Resurrection are in the past. The Christians who attended worship last Sunday have for the most part gone back to the every day routine of life.

Easter is remembered only by the new clothes and the wilted corsages and lilies. Palm Sunday is forgotten almost as though it didn't exist or never happened. The Easter letdown has set in.

They went back to the Upper Room. This had become their headquarters since the Last Supper. In addition to the eleven were other followers. Whether in desperation or as a logical action, all devoted themselves in prayer.

The disciples' action showed the value of prayer and the need of united fellowship. For all of the close friends of Christ united in prayer for their task which lay ahead.

Last Sunday most of the churches were crowded with worshippers, many of whom will be busy with other activities today. The ministers will look at the faithful members and yearn for the opportunity to preach to a full church. The choir's anthem will bounce around rather than be absorbed by the large numbers present. Those in attendance will wonder where are those who attended last Sunday.

The way to beat the Easter letdown is to follow the disciples' example and go to the Upper Room, which would be our accustomed house of worship. Regular attendance can always be helpful in any case of letdown.

Worship of God can put our values in the right place. All of us need to think of God, rather than self. Concentration upon God and His greatness gets us properly aligned for life.

The disciples and others in the Upper Room were said to be "with one accord." The worshipping group was united in their concern for doing God's will and carrying out Christ's mission.

The Church, no matter where it is gathered, must be united if it is to be effective. A number of individuals with different motives, attitudes, and concepts of what is to be done will do little to carry out the purpose of God.

Every Christian to be worthy of the name which they bear must be concerned with extending the Gospel by word and deed. Christianity begins with a change of heart and mind but it ends with a life of action dedicated to God.

Finally, the disciples devoted themselves to prayer. Prayer is vitally essential to individual and group strength. Only communication and closeness to God can give any group the facility to act with unity and courageously.

In worship, sometimes only the minister prays. If he is praying, he should be leading the hearers in prayer. All should unite in prayer that there may be communication with God and spiritual strengthening.

The sure cure for the Easter letdown is regular worship, united worship, and prayerful worship. Participate in this cure and the results will probably be seen by others, and perhaps next year, the Easter letdown will be less.

Calvary Tabernacle meets at the Everglades Presbyterian Church at 1040 N. Main St., Belle Glade.

The film said to be the most "powerful" movie ever produced by a religious film company, was released recently by New Liberty Films of Burbank, Calif.

The film follows investigative reporter Ann Summers on an assignment to report the effects of the 1973 U.S. Supreme Court decision of Roe vs. Wade, which legalized abortions in America.

During Ms. Summers investigation, she interviewed people from both sides of the issue, including Dr. Edward Allred, operator of the world's largest chain of abortion clinics, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Wilkie, leading pro-life activists, Congressman Henry Hyde, author of the "Hyde Amendment," and Dr. Bernard Nathanson, author of "Aborting America" and a former abortion clinic operator who performed in excess of 60,000 abortions in over a 19 month period.

"Tribute" on stage May 7th at Cultural Arts Center

BELLE GLADE- On May 7th and 8th, The Glades College and Community Theatre will return to the stage with its second major theatrical production.

The theatrical group will present "Tribute," by Bernard Slade at the Palm Beach Junior College Glades Cultural Arts Center.

"Tribute" selected as one of the ten best plays of its year on Broadway, is being directed by Dr. Barry Russal, a Professor of English at PBJC-Glades.

"Tribute" often comic and tender, and sometimes shocking, deals with one imperfect man's attempt to find his place in life under the shadow of death.

Scottie Templeton's a "charming, irresponsible" fellow played by James Montgomery of Clewiston is the play's star.

Montgomery also played a leading role in the group's first production "Prisoner of Second Avenue."

Templeton a sometime Broadway press agent and former scriptwriter, he's everybody's friend, nobody's hero and a great womanizer who's managed to live over fifty years without taking anything seriously including love, marriage, and fatherhood.

His life has been one continuous gag, but at 51, he finds the script's been rewritten as a tragedy. He learns he's fatally ill. His son, Jud, played by Byron Rayson of Belle Glade, alienated by years of abuse, betrays his father, his wife, his friend and boss, and his doctor—and after a bitter, revealing confrontation, father and son are reconciled. And it is Jud who gets Scottie to agree to be rehospitalized for treatment and then organizes a giant tribute to his father in the theater.

Scottie's wife is played by Pam Hatch of Clewiston.

Other actors and actresses in the production are: Bill Hatch of Clewiston, Maggy (Arlene Lancaster of Belle Glade), Sally (Adele Kimbro of Belle Glade) and Gladys (Jane Shepard of Belle Glade).

Dr. Russal said there are 18 members of the theater group working with the production along with seven cast members.

Working with props, sound, publicity and costumes and make-up are Laura Weeks, Betty McCormick, Sharon Thibault, Sally Seigler, Bertha Stewart, Gene Bair, Gladys Wahner, Georgia Johnson, Cindy McKee, and Ann Youchok.

A new experience for the Glades, the Glades College and Community Theatre began in the fall of 1980 as the project of a number of concerned citizens who wished to expand the theatrical opportunities available in the Glades.

After considerable struggle which accompanies most births, with the support of local businesses and individuals who donated money and materials, the group produced its first play "Prisoner of Second Avenue." The show sold out, the reviews were excellent, and the theatre group was on its way.

Dr. Russal said "this year, with the availability of the Cultural Arts Center at the Glades Campus, the theatre group enters an exciting new phase of its existence."

During the facilities of the Center, the Glades College and Community Theatre will be able to stage productions more varied and sophisticated than have ever before been possible in the Glades," he added.

"This year's play, 'Tribute,' provides graphic examples of the sort of production techniques with the Cultural Arts Center will accommodate," Russal said.

"And this is only the beginning! The training available in theatre classes at P.B.J.C. Glades, along with the practical experience provided by productions such as 'Tribute,' will allow members of the group to make the most of what the center takes they possess," he added. "Anyone in the community who has interest in the theatre is welcome to join. No experience is necessary."

Russal said "one of the most exciting aspects of the Glades College and Community Theatre is its unique combination of college and community involvement and support: students and teachers, friends and neighbors, parents and children, people from every conceivable background get an opportunity to learn, work, express and enjoy themselves together," said Russal.

"With the support of the college and the community, the group looks forward to bringing to the Glades, on a regular basis, the excitement that only live theatre can produce," he said.

Tickets are now on sale at the P.B.J.C. Glades Campus book store. Reservations can be made by calling the bookstore at 996-3055. Although the tickets sales are going great, Ms. Lancaster, head of the ticket sales said good seats are still available.

One hitters down Indian River

Thompson's second of year

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE — After the Indian River Academy baseball team went down to defeat in a one-hit performance off the arm of Gator Jeff Parsons early last week, the Indian River diamond squads must have thought they had reached the bottom.

For the softball team, that wasn't the case. Friday, April 9, they sunk lower than their male counterparts.

Marilynn Thompson one-hit the team, her second one-hitter of the season. The rest of the Gators ran the score up on their opponents, ending the game in the fifth inning by way of the mercy rule. The score was 31-2.

"We did not purposely run up the score on them," said Coach Mandy Perez, who called the performance a "total team effort" which capitalized on 21 hits, 13 walks and 10 Indian River errors.

The only hit Thompson gave up was a first-inning two-run homer. Thompson had walked the first batter and was almost out of the inning with two outs when Kathy Lee hit the fourth pitch off her and drove in herself and lead-off batter Laura Stone.

The previous day, the Gators had lost to John Carroll 11-3, only their fourth loss of the season. The Gators committed nine errors on the field against the 2A school.

"That really hurt us," said Perez. "We didn't hit the ball good at all. It was the most lopsided victory against us."

The Gators stranded 12 base runners. Angie Adams and Tammy Scruggs were the team's leaders in the game. Adams scored once, drove in one run and hit a triple. She was four for four on the day.

In three trips to the plate, Scruggs gathered two hits, including a double, and scored one run. The team stayed in the dugout about an hour after the game discussing their performance and had "a good practice Thursday," according to Perez.

The next day, they went out and vented the full fury of their wrath on Indian River.

The April 9 victory over Indian River was the second that week. The Gators had beaten the team April 6, by an 11-5 score.

Tammy Scruggs pitched that game, picking up the win. She also scored two runs and knocked in two, going two for three at the plate.

Kelly Teets went three for four and knocked in two. She also scored two.

Lauren Green went two for two, scoring one and knocking in one. Jaime Wills, pinch-hitting in the fifth with the score tied at three, knocked in two runs and scored the winning run. She was one for one on the day.

The Gators are 12-4 overall and 11-0 in Class 1A.

Perez said he is hoping the 11-0 record will gain the Gators a top berth in the districts tournament next week.

Batting order helps Parsons

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE — The Glades Day Gators baseball squad may be having trouble fielding the ball at times, but Jeff Parsons sparked on the mound last Tuesday, April 6, when he struck out five en route to a one-hit shut-out over Indian River Academy.

The 15-0 victory upped his record to 2-1.

He had some help from the offensive line-up which picked up a home run, a triple and a double.

Raul Garcia hit the homerun, Brian Lohmann the triple and Richard Schiele the single.

Schiele, who went two for three on the day, also batted in two runs.

Hits were also gathered by Tommy Wilson (2), Guerrero, Paul Allen and Henry Alava.

The Gators played Indian River Academy Friday, April 9, and dealt them another lopsided defeat: 18-4.

Johanny Telles rose to the occasion to strike out eight and give up only three hits. He also helped himself out by going two for two and walking twice.

Schiele picked up three RBIs in three trips to the plate, hitting a homerun and a double.

Brian Lohmann also had a good day at the plate, batting in two runs with two hits. Bill Schleter went two for three and batted in two.

Craig Korbly hit two and Jeff Parsons hit a triple in the game.

Mike Mock, Robert Rodriguez, Paul Allen, Tommy Wilson and Raul Garcia also reached base safely on hits.

Lohmann is leading the team with a .372 batting average and six extra base hits; four doubles and two triples.

Raul Garcia, Richard Schiele and Paul Allen are leading the team with one homer apiece.

Wilson is the team's second leading hitter at .370. Garcia is batting at a .361 clip, and Schiele is at .341.

Parsons is leading the team with a 2-1 record or .667 percentage. Antonio Sanchez is leading the team in victories with his 3-3 record. Garcia has a 0-1 record and Tommy McArthur is at 0-3.

Schiele has batted in 12 runs this season, Garcia nine and Lohmann and Alava each have seven.

This week the Gators travel to the Clewiston Easter tournament and play LaBelle, Moore Haven and Clewiston.

Crusaders crush Gators, district seeds expected

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE — When the two roughly fought battle which can go either way. Except in baseball.

The Christian Day Crusaders met the Glades Day Gators in what could be their last game of the season last Wednesday, April 7, and Crusaders, with superior pitching and fielding, came out on top.

One week earlier, the Crusaders had beaten the Gators 11-5 when the Gators committed nine fielding errors.

Last week, the Gators committed 12 errors and lost 18-5.

The Gators tried to punch back, but they got the win. Tommy McArthur (0-3) was given the loss.

James Barnwell opened the Crusader attack with a three RBI triple in the first inning. He collected four RBIs and three hits in four at bats in the game.

Alex Morales went two for three including a double and Juan Armas hit three times in four trips to the plate.

Paez and Morales racked up eight Ks against the Gators and McArthur.

"They (the Crusaders) had five runs before we got an out," commented Gator Coach Tom King on the Crusaders devastating attack.

"I don't know if we can beat Christian Day. I thought we could. They'll be tough. I know that. Hopefully, a lot of them (the other teams in the 1A district shared by the Gators and Crusaders) will be a lot weaker than Christian Day,"

King expressed concern over the errors which have plagued the Gators throughout the season.

"The whole thing is, we're not a ball," he said. "Practice. I thought we've been doing that."

If the Gators and Crusaders meet a third time this year on the diamond, it will be in the district tournament next week. The Crusaders are 7-2 in 1A games and the Gators are 5-5.

The seeding was scheduled for this week.
